March 5th, 24 Hours to Give Where You Live

The Norwalk Housing Authority (NHA) created the Norwalk Housing Foundation (NHF) in 2000 that raises money for college scholarships.

One hundred percent of NHF funds go to students. Remember, giving gives back, through lasting coalitions, broadly unified and cohesive communities, and by establishing sustainable self-sufficiency through education. The return on these kinds of investments will be in the form of resources, relationships, and reliability; they help to develop a loyal, stable, and educated workforce and a more prosperous and financially sound City of Norwalk for everyone.

Fairfield County's Giving Day is 24 hours of online giving by individuals, families and companies to support their favorite local charities.

How Does Giving Day Work?

The Norwalk Housing Foundation registered to participate on a secure donation platform—www.FCGives.org. In addition, all registered nonprofits receive a dollar-for-dollar match, up to a predetermined amount, funded by Bank of America, partnering corporations, other institutions and individual donors.

March 5, 2015 is Giving Day

Donors, friends, family and community members can go to www.FCGives.org from midnight through 11:59 pm on March 5 and donate to Norwalk Housing Foundation. The Community Foundation's goals include registering at least 325 local nonprofits, engaging 9,500 unique donors, and raising $1 million.

Remember, every day can be giving day, and so if you can't participate through this special event, we welcome contributions by mail: NHF Scholarship Pro-

Winter Snow Removal Advisory

This has been a very harsh winter in the City of Norwalk specifically. One of the biggest challenges for NHA maintenance personnel as well as city public works crews has been the removal and disposal of major snow accumulations. Keeping roads and parking areas clear and accessible for residents and their vehicles has been hampered by the sheer volume of snow and the relentless frigid temperatures. Remember the responsibility for clearing parking lots and access roads belongs to maintenance workers and the task of cleaning off and moving vehicles is on the owner. Once the initial road and lot cleaning is done it is incumbent on the car owner to move his or her vehicle as soon as possible. This allows for workers to return for additional plowing/blowing to free up additional parking. By working together we can hopefully improve conditions in the future. We work hard and I personally welcome any suggestions you may have regarding this issue.

Employment Management Tip of the Month: Google Yourself

Keep damaging information about yourself away from potential employers. Google yourself. Do a simple job search that an employer might do and review the results. If you use Facebook and other social media sites, be sure to set your security settings to "private" so that your profile isn't available for viewing by anyone you're not connected to. Similarly if you use Twitter or have a personal blog, consider using an alias so that current and potential employers will be shielded from any potentially controversial statements you may make.

Magazine Project

The All About Me Magazine Collage let students utilize a variety of magazines to create an interesting and fun collage. Students individually worked to create a poster filled with pictures, words or phrases that describe them; focusing on personal goals and what they desire or envision themselves to be. After searching and gathering ideas, a very vivid collage was created. Each student shared their collage with the group in a Show and Tell format. The presenter in this picture, Jahzaiah Simms was very excited to showcase pictures of his favorite celebrities, cool possessions he hoped to gain and his future interest in the military. Moreover, as the presentation progressed, it was great to see students learning and engaging with their peers because of these newly shared connections.

The Business of Art

Kimberly Castillo and Samira Velez stand at one of the many WPA murals located in Norwalk City Hall.

On February 20th, 20 West Art students completed their participation in the "Business of Art" program by acting as Student Docents and giving visiting guests a walking tour of Norwalk's historic WPA Murals at the Norwalk City Hall. The Student Docent Tours come at the conclusion of a 4 month art program that joined the creative forces of NHA students with outside organizations.

Throughout this program, students were introduced to the business world of the creative arts. Students learned that there are many different business opportunities in art, ranging from being the actual artist, to being passionate about the history and knowledge of existing art, historical or contemporary. In the Spring, this program will expand Student Docents to giving outside walking tours of Norwalk's more contemporary community art located throughout SoNo, such as the "Traffic Graphic" boxes.

Child First Services Available

Home-based, early childhood intervention program designed to decrease the incidence of serious emotional disturbances, developmental and learning problems, and abuse and neglect. Child First uses community partnerships to help identify children living in high-risk environments, or children who show the early signs of emotional, behavioral or developmental problems. Children referred to Child First receive intensive, in-home intervention by Masters or PhD. level mental health/developmental clinicians and B.A. care coordinators. The Child Guidance Center of Mid-Fairfield County is the lead agency for the Norwalk Child First Program and partners with Family & Children's Agency. We employ three Child First intervention teams, each with a M.A./PhD. level child development clinician and a B.A./M.A. level parent educator. The program is located on the 2nd floor of the Norwalk Department of Health Building, located next to City Hall. For more details call 203-939-9339 and speak with a live representative.
